Outlook for next month.

- Interbank Interest rates are expected to rise in the near term due to the 150bps hike in benchmark interest rate by the Monetary Policy Committee of the Central Bank of Nigeria.
- Exchange rate is expected to appreciate in the near term as the increase in interest rates is expected to encourage foreign portfolio investment and reduce demand pressure
- Given the inverse relationship between interest rate and the Equities market, we expect to see a weakened Equities market performance in the near term as fixed income assets becomes more attractive.
- Yield on Fixed Income instrument are expected to trend upward as investors price in the effect of the 150bps increase in Monetary Policy Rates

Regulatory Update:

National Pension Commission issues revised regulation on retirement and terminal benefits

The regulation simplifies some difficulties and guides the process of accessing retirement and terminal benefits by pension contributors and retirees under the Contributory Pension Scheme.

The revised regulation contains several new provisions on pension enhancement, voluntary contributions, temporary access to RSA due to loss of job, payment under the Micro Pension Plan, administrative sanctions for violations by Pension Fund Administrators (PFAs), amongst others. The regulation also introduces salient amendments to several existing provisions while providing more clarity on others. The key highlights of the revised regulation include the simplification of the documentation process, non-confirmation of employment status by employers, access to lump sum, RSA consolidation before payment of benefit.

Documentation process

The old regulation outlined the documents required for retirees to access benefits, the revised regulation simplified the process and now mandates PFAs to make efforts to ensure that all documentation preparatory to the retirement of the Retirement Savings Account (RSA) holder should be provided and concluded within a period of four months prior to the date of retirement.

PFAs have also been mandated to advise prospective retirees to check their websites and be acquainted with the CPS Retirement Pack containing features of Programmed Withdrawal (PW) and Retiree Life Annuity (RLA) at least three months to date of retirement In order to ensure that prospective retirees are duly educated on the modes of accessing their benefits,

Non-confirmation of employment status by employers

Temporary loss of job has been defined as a situation "where an employee voluntarily retires, disengages or is disengaged before attaining the age of 50 years and is unable to secure another employment after four months of the disengagement.

The provision addresses situations where employers refuse to confirm the retirement or disengagement of their former employees. Prior to this revision, a letter of acceptance of resignation or disengagement issued by the employer is mandatory for a pension contributor seeking payment of 25 percent for temporary loss of job. However, the Revised Regulation provides that where the employer fails/refuses to accept the resignation letter from the employee, the PFA shall write the employer confirming the employee's resignation and ensure that an acknowledgement copy is kept as proof of receipt.

Where the employer fails to respond to the PFA's inquiry within 30 days, the employer's refusal is taken as acceptance of the employee's resignation for the purpose of benefits payment.

Additional lump sum payment

In terms of lump sum payment, the revised regulation has clarified that retirees shall be allowed to access additional lump sum after the payment of initial lump sum if there are additional inflows of funds into the RSA from the employers. The additional remittances shall first be applied to augment pension up to 50 percent of the retiree's final salary while the balance may be paid out as lump sum.

RSA consolidation before payment of benefits

The Revised Regulation has also clarified that the RSA must be consolidated before retirement benefits can be accessed. A retiree shall only be entitled to access his or her retirement benefits upon consolidation of his or her RSA. The components of an RSA at retirement shall consist of accrued pension rights or pre-act benefits (if any) for employees that were in employment before the commencement of the CPS, employer/employee pension contributions, returns on investment and fixed portion of voluntary contributions (if any).

The new regulation mandates the PFA to take necessary steps to liaise with the employer and other relevant parties, to ensure that all the entitlements of a retiree or deceased person is credited to his/her RSA for the purpose of determining the final RSA balance, before processing of benefits.

Accrued pension benefits for private sector contributors

The Revised Regulation has made provision for the administration of Pre-Act Benefits, which are the accrued pension benefits of contributors mainly in the private sector in line with the employer's trust deed prior to the commencement of the CPS in June 2004. Any employee who retires and has pre-act contributions shall notify the PFA of his/her intention to withdraw the Pre-Act balance. A PFA shall request the retiree to provide necessary documents and an application to access the Pre-Act part of the RSA balance. Consequently, the Pre-Act balance can be paid to the retiree separately, prior to selecting either Programmed Withdrawal or Annuity modes of accessing retirement benefits".

The data recapture exercise is still ongoing. Please ensure you register for your NIN with NIMC as it has become compulsory and to ensure prompt access to your benefits.
